Director of Development & Alumni Relations

McLean School
Potomac, MD

Changing the lives of students and families, McLean School provides a comprehensive and academically rigorous full-scope college preparatory school program for bright, collegebound students, including those with dyslexia, anxiety, and ADHD. For over 65 years, the school has helped students realize their full potential with a curriculum that is traditional without being rigid, challenging without being intimidating, and designed with the real world in mind.

McLean recognizes that all children are natural learners, but that they learn in different ways. The School's Abilities Model® is a more complete way to understand how a student's mind works. This approach recognizes each child for their strengths, providing support in areas of need and fostering resilience, transforming how students view themselves and their futures. McLean focuses on what a child can do, not what they can't--all within a college preparatory program that incorporates challenging academics, championship sports teams, visual and performing arts, robotics, service learning, and more.

Reaching all corners of the McLean experience, the school's commitment to diversity and equity is an extension of its mission to make education accessible, stimulating, and meaningful to a broad range of learners. McLean embraces diversity and values the integrity of all individuals. This recognition enriches the community and encourages students to be better leaders and more responsible citizens.

Director of Development & Alumni Relations

McLean School (mcleanschool.org), a K-12 co-educational independent school in Potomac, Maryland, seeks applicants for a Director of Development & Alumni Relations. This position is currently open and can offer an immediate start or a July 1 start, dependent upon candidate availability. McLean School has for over sixty-five years been helping bright students realize their full potential by providing a comprehensive college preparatory program that emphasizes small classes and differentiated instruction. Through our Abilities Model®, we embrace both traditional learners and ones with mild to moderate learning challenges. We recognize and teach to individual strengths, responding to areas of challenge, but never defining students by them.

This exciting opportunity will challenge a dynamic and driven professional to establish an ambitious development plan, strengthen relationships, expand the major giving donor base, and make an impact as a key player in the emerging culture of philanthropy at McLean. The candidate will bring strategic experience, energy that inspires others to give and further relationships, and a creative approach to compelling communications in alignment with the School's strategic priorities. The Director of Development & Alumni Relations will report directly to the Assistant Head of School for Advancement until July 2023, and to the Interim Co-Head of School for the 2023-24 school year, working closely with the Administrative Team and Board of Trustees.

The Director of Development & Alumni Relations will play a leading role in identification, cultivation, and solicitation and follow-up with the most philanthropically capable families to ensure increasing levels of endowment gifts, major gifts, grants, planned gifts, and campaign gifts during campaign years. This position is external-facing and accomplished through management of a team that includes an Annual Giving Manager, Alumni Engagement Manager, and potentially a Database Manager, as well as through collaboration with the Board of Trustees, and by effectively leveraging the skills and contributions of McLean's parents, trustees, friends, alumni, faculty, staff, and volunteers.
